YOUR Retreat, OUR Trainers for:

THINKING STYLES

Montara Farm Consultants use the Herrmann Brain Dominance Instrument for assessing individual and team thinking style profiles. The onsite seminar and experiential learning sessions show participants how to use this mapping for strategy development... turning differences into an advantage... for team effectiveness, helping each member to assume a role likely to drive team success... for culture change, factoring thinking styles into strategy for managing cultural changes... for communication and conflict resolution, analyzing message and style to fit target audiences.

PAR - LEADING PEOPLE FOR QUALITY RESULTS

Examines the difference between just making a quality product or providing a quality service and the ability to obtain quality performance from employees and obtain willing commitment and cooperation from customers. PAR is a hands on guide to interpersonal goal achievement, with proven results at all levels in the organization.

TEAM DEVELOPMENT COMMUNICATION

Thinking styles and communication styles affect information transfer and interpretation. Using Herrmann Brain Dominance DISC, "I Speak," KAI and other profile instruments, individuals learn strengths and weaknesses of their styles and more effective methods for interacting with other team members.

Adventure program is customized to complement training.

OWNERS AND STAFF

Larry Becker and Trish Stump, husband and wife for 35 years have given up their 30 year corporate lives to help others better enjoy their careers by helping groups become teams.

Larry and Trish are not only owners and planners, but also facilitators and trainers available for your group events. Larry has an MBA and 30 years of sales and sales management experience for IT companies including McDonnell Douglas, EDS, Systemhouse, GTE/Verizon, to name a few. For the eight years prior to 'retiring' to the farm, he served as the Senior VP of sales for companies in the

"Because of the atmosphere, I went from the usual 50% hearing and retention of what was said to almost 100%."

"For the quality of the content, the atmosphere, the food, and the lasting value of the tools brought back to my company, their money was well spent."

Healthcare IT business, preparing them for sale or IPO. Larry manages a team of Montara facilitators and is the Farm's primary gardener.

Trish has an MBA and has applied her people and management skills within large organizations including the Coca Cola Company and Sears, and the Federal Government, and as a training and development consultant to the hospitality industry. Her teams developed and delivered staffing and training worldwide for 28 new hotels and resort openings for Four Season, Ritz Carlton, Intercontinental, Nikko, Swiss Grand, Hyatt, Marriot, Wyndham, Stouffers and others. As the designer and developer of Montara Farm, she has combined all of this experience to apply to your group's growth and enjoyment of the Farm adventure.

Trish and Larry employ facilitators and consultants experienced in outdoor adventures and experiential learning techniques. From former CFO's to horse whisperers, our staff can read 'herd' behavior and direct it in a fun and more productive way. From building bridges to racing Dragon Boats on lake Lanier to chasing outlaws on horseback, our adventure team can do it all, keep it safe, and keep your team laughing.
